Subject: On the settlement

Dear Sir (or Madam),

As you may read at < <http://www.pbs.org/cringely/pulpit/pulpit20011206.html> >, the proposed settlement is frankly lousy. Microsoft is getting off far too easy.

I would like to put in a good word for Steve Satchell for the three-member committee to oversee Microsoft.

You know, I have read a bit of history of the Gilded Age, and how the railroad barons behaved back then. Aren't we a little more enlightened now?

Respectfully,

Dean Moore
